Discrimination Resolution Process (DRP) Policy Guide

The following guide serves to assist individuals using the Discrimination Resolution Process (Policy F-V-s). Where noted in the policy, this document provides additional Federal Title IX guidance indicated by a “Federal Title IX Regulation Note.”

Please contact Drew Canham, Chief Compliance Officer (who also serves as Title IX Coordinator), with questions related to this guide and its related process (254-299-8645 or dcanham@mclennan.edu).

The Rights of Parties (Supportive Measures) associated with the Discrimination Resolution Process are located in Appendix [A] of this Guide.

Reporting Discrimination

There is no time limitation on the filing of allegations. However, if the Respondent is no longer subject to McLennan Community College’s jurisdiction, the ability to investigate, respond and provide remedies may be limited.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: Federal requirements mandate that, at the time of filing a formal complaint, the Complainant must be an employee or a student participating in or attempting to participate in the education program or activity of the College. Parties who do not meet this requirement may still be able to file reports utilizing State or MCC procedures. The Title IX Coordinator will help parties understand differences between College, State and Federal requirements.
Reports of discrimination, harassment and/or retaliation may be made using any of the following options:

1) Title IX Coordinator: Dr. Drew Canham, at 254-299-8645, Administration Building, Room 408 or titleix@mclennan.edu; Dr. Staci Taylor, Deputy Title IX Coordinator, at 254-299-8363, Learning Technology Center, Room 218c or staylor@mclennan.edu;

2) Shawn Trochim, Deputy Title IX Coordinator, at 254-299-8811, Math, Fitness, and Wellness Building, Room 109 or strochim@mclennan.edu;

3) Equal Employment Opportunity Officer: Al Pollard, at 254-299-8669, Administration Building, Room 417 or apollard@mclennan.edu; Missy Kittner, Deputy EEO Officer, at 254-299-8514, Administration Building, Room 104 or mkittner@mclennan.edu;

4) ADA Officers: Dr. Drew Canham, at 254-299-8645, Administration Building, Room 408 or dcanham@mclennan.edu; Dr. Stephen Benson, at 254-299-8649, Administration Building, Room 410 or sbenson@mclennan.edu;

5) Chief Compliance Officer: Dr. Drew Canham, at 254-299-8645, Administration Building, Room 408 or dcanham@mclennan.edu, in addition to his role as the Vice President of Student Success, serves as the Chief Compliance Officer to coordinate implementation of this policy with other officers.

6) Online: https://www.lighthouse-services.com/mclennan/; this website provides an option to report sexual misconduct anonymously.

7) Confidentially to the MCC Counseling Center: 254-299-8210; or

8) Emergencies: Campus Police, 254-299-8911.

Amnesty for Complainant and Witnesses

McLennan Community College encourages parties to report misconduct and crimes. Sometimes, Complainants or witnesses are reluctant to report to McLennan Community College officials, or participate in resolution processes because they fear they themselves may be accused of policy violations. It is in the best interests of this community that Complainants choose to report to college officials, and that witnesses come forward to share what they know.

Students: Sometimes, students are hesitant to aid others for fear that they may get themselves in trouble. For example, a student who has been drinking underage might hesitate to take a sexual misconduct victim to Campus Police. While policy violations cannot be overlooked, the College will provide educational outcomes, rather than punishment, to those who offer their assistance to others in need. Amnesty may also be granted to witnesses on a case-by-case basis.

Employees: Sometimes, employees are also hesitant to report harassment or discrimination they have experienced for fear that they themselves might be accused of wrongdoing. For example, an employee who has violated the consensual relationship policy and is then assaulted during the relationship might hesitate to report the incident to McLennan Community College officials. The institution, at its discretion, can offer employee reporting parties amnesty from such policy violations (typically more minor policy violations) related to the incident. Amnesty may also be granted to witnesses on a case-by-case basis.

Discrimination Resolution Process (DRP)

1. Preliminary Inquiry

Following receipt of notice or a report of misconduct, the Chief Compliance Officer (or designee), in consultation with the appropriate officer(s), engages in a preliminary inquiry to determine whether there is reasonable cause to believe policies have been violated. If there is no reasonable cause to believe that policy has been violated, the process will end unless the Complainant requests the Chief Compliance Officer make an extraordinary determination to reopen the investigation. The preliminary inquiry is typically one to three (1-3) college business days in duration. Where policies have been violated the Chief Compliance Officer reserves the right to initiate appropriate supportive measures or resolution proceedings without a formal report or participation by the Complainant.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: A formal complaint must be filed to initiate a formal resolution proceeding. The Title IX Coordinator may sign the formal complaint to initiate the grievance process without the Complainant. In addition, where the allegation does not involve employee-student harassment, the parties may request an informal resolution by providing voluntary written consent. If the Complainant does not wish for an investigation to take place, he or she may notify the Title IX Coordinator who may conduct a violence risk assessment to ensure the safety of the campus.

2. Supportive Measures

McLennan Community College will maintain confidentiality regarding any accommodations or supportive measures per the rights of the parties, provided it does not impair the College’s ability to create a safe and nondiscriminatory environment.

McLennan Community College may interim suspend a student, employee or organization pending the completion of DRP investigation and procedures, particularly when in the judgment of the Chief Compliance Officer the safety or well-being of any member(s) of the campus community may be jeopardized by the presence on-campus of the Respondent or the ongoing activity of a student organization whose behavior is in question. In all cases in which an interim suspension is imposed, the student, employee or student organization will be given the option to meet with the Chief Compliance Officer prior to such suspension being imposed, or as soon thereafter as reasonably possible, to show cause why the suspension should not be implemented. The Chief Compliance Officer has discretion to implement or stay an interim suspension and to determine its conditions and duration. Violation of an interim suspension under this policy will be grounds for expulsion or termination.

During an interim suspension or administrative leave, a student or employee may be denied access to McLennan Community College campus, facilities and events. As determined by the Chief Compliance Officer (in consultation with ADA or EEO officers as appropriate), this restriction can include classes, work and all other McLennan Community College activities or privileges for which the student or employee might otherwise be eligible. At the discretion of the Chief Compliance Officer (in consultation with ADA or EEO officers as appropriate), alternative options to employment or coursework may be pursued to ensure as minimal an impact as possible on the parties.

Following the conclusion of DRP investigation, and in addition to any sanctions implemented, the Chief Compliance Officer may utilize long-term remedies or actions to stop the harassment or discrimination, remedy its effects and prevent their recurrence. Long-term remedies may also be provided even when the Respondent is found not responsible.

Examples of Interim and Long Term remedies are provided in Appendix [B] of this Guide.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: Non-disciplinary and or non-punitive individualized services will be offered to students where appropriate and reasonably available prior to the filing of a formal complaint, after filing a formal complaint or where no formal complaint was filed.

3. Investigation

The following additional details are provided to help clarify the typical investigation process outlined in the Discrimination Resolution Policy (F-V- s). The Investigators and Chief Compliance Officer will typically take the following steps as part of an investigation process, if not already completed (not necessarily in this order):

- In coordination with campus partners (e.g., the Title IX officials, EEO or ADA officers), initiate or assist with any necessary supportive measures;
- Determine the identity and contact information of the Complainant;
- Identify all policies allegedly violated. This process (DRP) can be utilized for any behavior that falls within college policies at any time during the process. Investigators have the authority to address all collateral misconduct, meaning that they can hear all allegations of discrimination, harassment and retaliation, but also may address any additional alleged policy violations that have occurred in concert with the discrimination, harassment or retaliation, even though those collateral allegations may not specifically fall within this policy. Accordingly, investigations should be conducted with as wide a scope as necessary;
- Assist the Chief Compliance Officer with an immediate preliminary inquiry to determine if there is reasonable cause to believe the Respondent has violated policy;
- If there is insufficient evidence to support reasonable cause, the inquiry should be closed with no further action;
- Commence a thorough, reliable and impartial investigation by developing a strategic investigation plan, including a witness list, evidence list, intended timeframe, and order of interviews for all witnesses and the Respondent, who may be given notice prior to or at the time of the interview;
- Meet with parties to finalize his or her statement, if necessary;
- Prepare the allegation notice based on the preliminary inquiry;
- If possible, provide written notification to parties prior to interviews so they may have the assistance of an advisor of their choosing present for all meetings attended by the advisee;
- Provide Complainant and Respondent with a written description of alleged violation(s), a list of all policies allegedly violated, a description of the applicable procedures and a statement of the potential sanction/responsive actions that could result;

- Prior to the conclusion of the investigation, provide the Complainant and the Respondent with a list of witnesses whose information will be used to render a finding;
- Continue to provide parties with resources and monitor climate for retaliation and other unhealthy behaviors;
- Allow each party the opportunity to suggest questions they wish the Investigators to ask of the other party and witnesses;
- Provide parties with all relevant evidence to be used in rendering a determination and provide each with a full and fair opportunity to address that evidence prior to a finding being rendered;
- Complete the investigation promptly, and without unreasonable deviation from the intended timeline;
- Provide regular updates to the Complainant throughout the investigation, and to the Respondent, as appropriate;
- Share a draft report with the parties and allow them a period of time to comment before a report is finalized. The Investigators may incorporate feedback from the parties as appropriate;
- Provide findings to the Chief Compliance Officer, based on a preponderance of the evidence (whether a policy violation is more likely than not);
- Chief Compliance Officer finalizes and presents the findings to the parties as required by law; and
- Provide opportunity for appeal.

Witnesses (as distinguished from the parties) are expected to cooperate with and participate in the College’s investigation. Witnesses may provide written statements in lieu of interviews during the investigation and may be interviewed remotely by phone or Zoom (or similar technology) if they cannot be interviewed in person or if the investigators determine timeliness or efficiency dictate a need for remote interviewing. Parties who elect not to participate in the investigation or to withhold information from the investigation do not have the ability to offer evidence later during an appeal if it could have been offered during the investigation. Failure to offer evidence prior to an appeal does not constitute grounds for appeal based on new evidence.

No unauthorized audio or video recording of any kind is permitted during investigation meetings or other DRP proceedings.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: Where alleged misconduct violates Federal Title IX regulations, federal guidance requires live hearings as part of the grievance process for all formal complaints. See Appendix [C] for information on the hearing process.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: The following additional procedures are required for Federal procedures:

- Provide each interviewed party and witness an opportunity to review and verify the Investigator’s summary notes of the relevant evidence/testimony from their respective interviews and meetings;
- Make good faith efforts to notify the parties of any meeting or interview involving the other party, in advance when possible;

- When participation of a party is expected, provide that party with written notice of the date, time, and location of the meeting, as well as the expected participants and purpose;

- Allow each party the opportunity to suggest witnesses and questions they wish the Investigator(s) to ask of the other party and witnesses;

- Prior to the conclusion of the investigation, provide the parties and their respective Advisors with a list of witnesses whose information will be used to render a finding;

- Prior to the conclusion of the investigation, provide the parties and their respective Advisors a secured electronic or hard copy of the draft investigation report as well as an opportunity to inspect and review all of the evidence obtained as part of the investigation that is directly related to the reported misconduct, including evidence upon which the College does not intend to rely in reaching a determination, for a ten (10) business day review and comment period; and

- The Investigator will incorporate any relevant feedback, and the final report is then shared with all parties and their Advisors through secure electronic transmission or hard copy at least ten (10) business days prior to a hearing. The parties are also provided with a file of any directly related evidence that was not included in the report.

Civil Rights Investigators

McLennan Community College’s Civil Rights Investigators (Investigators) are trained in all aspects of the resolution process and can serve in any of the following roles at the direction of the Chief Compliance Officer:

- To provide sensitive intake for and initial advice pertaining to allegations;

- To investigate allegations;

- To act as process advisors to those involved in the Discrimination Resolution Process;

- To serve on appellate reviews; and

- To serve as Decision-maker in Federal TIX cases.

Investigators also recommend proactive policies, and serve in an educative role for the community. The Chief Compliance Officer, in consultation with the President, appoints investigators, who report to the Chief Compliance Officer. Investigators are required to receive annual training organized by the Chief Compliance Officer, including a review of McLennan Community College policies and procedures as well as applicable federal and state laws and regulations so they can appropriately address allegations, and promote accountability.
Note: the College may utilize third-party resources such as, but not limited to, outside investigators and mediators, provided those parties have received appropriate training.

4. Advisors

Each party can have an advisor of their choice present with them for all DRP meetings and proceedings, from intake through final determination. The parties may select whomever they wish to serve as their advisor if the advisor is eligible and available, and otherwise not involved in the resolution process. The advisor may be a friend, mentor, family member, attorney or any other supporter a party chooses to advise them who is available and eligible. Witnesses cannot also serve as advisors. The parties may choose advisors from inside or outside the campus community. The parties may choose to proceed without an advisor, but that choice shall not subsequently be used as grounds for an appeal. Federal Title IX Regulation Note: The Title IX Coordinator will offer a trained advisor if the Complainant or Respondent does not have one. Advisors are not required for the initial stages of the resolution process but are required for the hearing. Parties may not proceed without an advisor.

Advisors should help their advisees prepare for each meeting, and are expected to advise ethically, with integrity and in good faith. The College cannot guarantee equal advisory rights, meaning that if one party selects an advisor who is an attorney, but the other party does not, or cannot afford an attorney, the College is not obligated to provide one.

All advisors are subject to the General Conduct Policy, notwithstanding whether they are attorneys. Advisors shall not address campus officials in a meeting or interview unless otherwise invited. The advisor shall not make a presentation or represent the Complainant or Respondent during any meeting or proceeding and shall not speak on behalf of the advisee to the Investigators. The parties are expected to ask and respond to questions on their own behalf without representation by their advisor. Advisors may confer quietly with their advisees or in writing as necessary, if they do not disrupt the process. For longer or more involved discussions, the parties and their advisors should ask for breaks or step out of meetings to allow for private conversation. Advisors will typically be given an opportunity to meet in advance of any interview or meeting with administrative officials conducting that interview or meeting. This pre-meeting will allow advisors to clarify any questions they may have, and allows the College an opportunity to clarify the role the advisor is expected to take.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: Advisors may speak on behalf of the advisee to the Investigator or Decision-maker only during the cross-examination phase of a hearing proceeding.

Advisors are expected to refrain from interference with the investigation and resolution process. Any advisor who steps out of their role will be warned once and only once. If the Advisor continues to disrupt or otherwise fails to respect the limits of the advisor role, the advisor will be asked to leave the meeting. When an advisor is removed from a meeting, that meeting will typically continue without the advisor present. Subsequently, the Chief Compliance Officer will determine whether the advisor may be reinstated, may be replaced by a different advisor, or whether the party will forfeit the right to an advisor for the remainder of the process.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: If an advisor is not reinstated, McLennan Community College will provide a trained advisor to the advisee for the remainder of the proceedings, and or reschedule the meeting at the Title IX Coordinator’s discretion

The College expects that parties will wish to share documentation related to allegations with their advisors. The College provides a FERPA consent form that authorizes such sharing. The parties must complete this form before the College is able to share records with an advisor, though parties may share the information directly with their advisor if they wish. Advisors are expected to maintain the privacy of records shared with them. These records shall not be shared with third parties, disclosed publicly, or used for purposes not explicitly authorized by the College. The College may seek to restrict the role of any advisor who does not respect the sensitive nature of the process or who fails to abide by the College’s privacy expectations.

The College expects an advisor to adjust her or his schedule to allow them to attend college meetings when scheduled. The College does not typically change scheduled meetings to accommodate an advisor’s inability to attend. The College will, however, make reasonable provisions to allow an advisor who cannot attend in person to attend a meeting by telephone, video and/or virtual meeting technologies as may be convenient and available, if doing so does not cause an unreasonable delay.

A party may elect to change advisors during the process, and is not locked into using the same advisor throughout.

The parties must advise Investigators of the identity of their advisor at least two (2) college business days before the date of their first meeting with Investigators (or as soon as possible if a more expeditious meeting is necessary or desired). The parties must provide timely notice to investigators if they change advisors at any time.

5. Resolution

Proceedings are private. All persons present at any time during the resolution process are expected to maintain the privacy of the proceedings in accordance with McLennan Community College policy. While the contents of the hearing are private, the parties have discretion to share their own experiences if they so choose, and should discuss doing so with their advisors.

6. Outcomes (Sanctions, Conditions and Restrictions)

For specific examples of student and employee outcomes, see Appendix [D].

McLennan Community College may elect not to permit a student to withdraw if that student has an allegation pending for violation(s) of College policy. Should a student decide to leave and/or not participate in the DRP, the process will nonetheless proceed in the student’s absence to a reasonable resolution and that student will not be permitted to return to McLennan Community College unless all outcomes have been satisfied. The College may restrict access to academic transcripts until the allegations and any related sanctions, conditions or restrictions have been resolved.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: Should a student respondent permanently withdraw from McLennan Community College; the Federal Title IX resolution process ends. McLennan Community College and State processes may still apply.
Should an employee resign with unresolved allegations pending, college records may reflect that status, and any McLennan Community College responses to future inquiries regarding employment references for that individual may indicate the former employee is ineligible for rehire.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: Should an employee resign with unresolved allegations pending, Federal Title IX resolution process ends. McLennan Community College and State processes may still apply.

7. Appeal

Where the appellate review committee finds that at least one of the grounds is met by at least one party, additional principles governing the appeals process will include the following: Decisions by the appellate review committee are to be deferential to the original decision, making changes to the finding only where there is clear error and to the outcome only if there is a compelling justification to do so.

Appeals are not intended to be full re-hearings (de novo) of the allegations or investigation. In most cases, appeals are confined to a review of the written documentation or record of the investigation, and pertinent documentation regarding the grounds for appeal. An appeal is not an opportunity for committee members to substitute their judgment for that of the original investigator(s) merely because they disagree with findings and/or outcomes.

- Appeals granted based on new evidence should normally be remanded to the original investigator(s) for reconsideration. Other appeals may be remanded at the discretion of the Chief Compliance Officer or, in limited circumstances, heard by the appellate review committee.

- Outcomes imposed as the result of this process are stayed pending appellate results, unless the Chief Compliance Officer implements supportive measures in extraordinary circumstances to assure health and safety, pending the outcome of the appeal.

- For students: Graduation, study abroad, internships/externships, etc. do NOT in and of themselves constitute exigent circumstances, and students may not be able to participate in those activities during their appeal.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: The Appeal Chair will review the appeal for consideration to determine if the request meets the grounds for appeal. An appeal is limited to the following:

- Procedural irregularity that affected the outcome of the matter;

- New evidence that was not reasonably available at the time the determination regarding responsibility or dismissal was made, that could affect the outcome of the matter; and
• The Title IX Coordinator, Investigator(s), or Decision-makers(s) had a conflict of interest or bias for or against Complainants or Respondents generally, or the specific Complainant or Respondent that affected the outcome of the matter.

8. Failure to Complete Sanctions, Conditions and Restrictions or Comply with Interim and Long-term Remedies

All parties are expected to comply with outcomes within the timeframe specified by the Chief Compliance Officer. Failure to abide by these outcomes by the date specified, whether by refusal, neglect or any other reason, may result in additional sanctions, conditions or restrictions and/or termination from McLennan Community College and may be noted on a student’s official transcript and/or an employee’s personnel file. A suspension will only be lifted when compliance is achieved to the satisfaction of the Chief Compliance Officer.

Federal Title IX Regulation Note: All parties are expected to comply with outcomes within the timeframe specified by the Decision-maker.

Appendix B: Remedies

Interim

These remedies may include, but are not limited to:

- Referral to counseling services;
- Education to the community;
- Altering work arrangements for employees;
- Living arrangement adjustments;
- Providing campus escorts;
- Implementing contact limitations between the parties; and
  - Offering adjustments to academic deadlines, course schedules, etc.

Long Term

These remedies/actions may include, but are not limited to:

- Referral to counseling and health services;
- Education to the community;
- Permanently altering work arrangements for employees;
- Providing campus escorts;
- Climate surveys;
- Policy modification;
- Implementing long-term contact limitations between parties; and
- Offering adjustments to academic deadlines, course schedules, etc.
Appendix C: Hearing Process

All hearings are conducted by the Decision-maker who will use the process to determine responsibility and any subsequent sanctions misconduct based on any findings of responsibility. Hearings have specific requirements that must be adhered to for compliance:

- Hearings will take place at the College in the same location with all parties, witnesses, Advisors, and other participants present or virtually present with all participants simultaneously seeing and hearing each other.

- For hearings taking place at the College in the same location, parties may request the hearing to occur in separate rooms while allowing all participants to simultaneously see and hear each other through virtual means such as Zoom (or similar technology).

- All formal complaints reaching the hearing process are subject to cross examination. Prior to the hearing, parties will submit questions for cross examination to the Decision-maker based on the interviews and evidence provided to each party pre-hearing. The Decision-maker will determine the relevance of all questions. An explanation will be provided for excluding questions considered irrelevant.

- During the cross examination, the Decision-maker will only allow Advisors to question the other party or witnesses directly, orally, and in real time. The parties are not permitted to conduct the cross examination. If a party’s Advisor is not available, the College will provide a trained advisor at no charge.

- If a party or witness is not present at the scheduled hearing or refuses to participate in the cross examination, the Decision-maker will not consider statements from the party or witness when making a determination of responsibility.

- All hearings are recorded. The recording will be available to the parties for inspection and review.

- Following the hearing, the Decision-maker, using preponderance of the evidence, will make a determination regarding responsibility and will simultaneously provide the determination in writing to both parties.
Appendix D: Outcomes

Student Outcomes (Disciplinary Sanctions, Conditions, and Restrictions)

Typical outcomes that may be assigned to students or organizations individually or in combination include:

1. Disciplinary Sanctions are defined as the primary outcome of the alleged violation. If found responsible, the range of sanctions include the following outcomes:
   - Disciplinary Reprimand: Disciplinary reprimand is an official written notification to the student that the action in question was misconduct.
   - Disciplinary Probation: Disciplinary probation is a period of time during which a student’s conduct will be observed and reviewed. The student must demonstrate the ability to comply with college policies, rules, standards and any other requirement stipulated for the probationary period. Further instances of misconduct under the General Conduct Policy or the Highlander Guide during this period may result in additional sanctions, conditions and/or restrictions.
   - Deferred Disciplinary Suspension: Deferred disciplinary suspension is a timeframe where a disciplinary suspension may be deferred for a period of observation and review, but in no case will the deferred suspension be less than the remainder of the semester. Further instances of misconduct under the General Conduct Policy or the Highlander Guide during this period may result in additional sanctions, conditions and/or restrictions.
   - Disciplinary Suspension: Disciplinary suspension is a specific period of time in which a student may not participate in classes or college-related activities. Notification of disciplinary suspension will indicate the date suspension begins and the earliest date the application for student readmission will be considered. A registration hold will be placed on the student’s account in order to prevent the student from returning to classes during this period. Further instances of misconduct under the General Conduct Policy or the Highlander Guide during this period may result in additional sanctions, conditions and/or restrictions. Readmission may be denied if the student’s misconduct during the suspension would have warranted additional disciplinary action. If the student has failed to satisfy any sanctions, conditions and/or restrictions that have been imposed prior to an application for readmission, the student’s readmission may be denied.

NOTE: Student organizations may also be subject to suspension of their organization’s registration.

Disciplinary suspension is a specific period of time in which a student organization’s registration and privileges of the organization are suspended. Upon written request by the registered student organization’s representative, the Title IX Coordinator may consider whether to remove the notation of disciplinary suspension from the registration record of the student organization upon completion of the disciplinary suspension period. Notification of disciplinary suspension of an organization will indicate when the suspension begins and the earliest date the application for re-registration will be considered. An organization’s request for re-registration may be denied if the organization’s misconduct during the period of suspension would have warranted additional disciplinary action. If the organization has failed to satisfy any sanction(s), condition(s) and/or restriction(s) that have been imposed prior to an application for re-registration, the College may deny a re-registration request from the organization.

- Disciplinary Expulsion: Disciplinary expulsion is a bar against readmission and occurs when the student is permanently withdrawn and separated from MCC. The status of expulsion will be permanently shown on the student’s academic record, including the transcript and/or student organization’s registration. An administrative hold will be placed on the student’s record by the Title IX Coordinator to prevent future registration.
  - Withholding grades, official transcript or degree;
