Dear Johnette:

Seven outstanding individuals serve the community as unpaid trustees of Cooper Foundation. Their responsibilities require a significant contribution of time and talent. Mr. Bill Nesbitt served as a Cooper Foundation Trustee since 1986 and has recently resigned from the board. To fill that vacancy, the Cooper Trustees are recommending Rev. Leslie King, pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Waco. As you may know, Rev. King is a well-respected community leader. She has been involved in numerous community service projects and is highly respected by her parishioners, her peers in ministry, and the community. The current Trustees believe that her experience would be beneficial to Cooper Foundation.

Your organization is one of the beneficiaries of our philanthropy, and by virtue of the Foundation's governing instrument, McLennan Community College, along with other benefited organizations, has a role in the selection process of certain Cooper Foundation board members. McLennan Community College has the right to one vote. Under the Foundation's trust instrument, your vote is to be cast by your governing body, following such procedures as it deems appropriate. The vote is to be communicated to the Cooper Foundation in writing. We would appreciate action as soon as it is convenient. Your response may be communicated by letter or e-mail. Do not hesitate to contact me (felicia@cooperfdn.org) or Cooper Foundation Board Chair Mr. David Lacy (wdlacy@cbtwaco.bank) if you have any questions or if we may be of assistance.

Thank you for your collaborative spirit and for joining with Cooper Foundation as we make Waco an even better or more desirable community in which to live.

Sincerely,

Felicia Chase Goodman
